SOUTHAMPTON FETE IS A GREAT SUCCESS

P Mellon's Italian fruit stand that poired like a bit of old Naples. Mrs. Alfred E. Schermerhorn was in charge of the cafeteria which was placed under a tent, the supporting columns of which were festoons of oak branches. At the booth over which Miss Rosina Sherman Hoyt presided, were attractively ar-ranged fruit and vegetables from local ranged fruit and vegetables from local gardens as well as home made preserves. Mrs. George E. Dadmun, with, a corps of young women, dispensed ice cream, and at another booth Miss Mary Davis Landstreet, assisted by her young cousins. Thomas B. Davis, Jr., and Mallery Davis, offered for sale a variety of teney articles.

Fair Makes a Hit.

In a sandspile over which Mrs. Lyttle Fox presided, there was Captain idd's treasure trove for which children dug at a few cents per capita, and Miss Condon walked about with a great bunch of balloons for sale, not one of which was strong enough to give one an aerial spin. In a tent which was covered with weird Arabian designs, an occul-tist mystified those who had engaged his time in advance at $10 for 15 minutes, but the novel thing of the fair was the mysterious musical tree whose branches, with the aid of a wireless telephone, gave forth to the individual listener from the receiver which had been clipped on to a leaf a song by John McCormack or Caruso, or some other great artist.

The occultists' booth and the musical tree were in charge of Mrs. Charles E.

GARVANS SUED FOR TYPHUS OUTBREAK $125,000 Asked by Residents

in Saranac Region.

Tror, Aug. 15 .- Seven suits for damages, aggregating $125,000, have been brought against Francis P. Garvan and his wife, Mrs. Mabel Garvan of New York, daughter of Mrs. Anthony N Brady of Albany, by residents of Saranac Lake, Tupper Lake, Malone and Plattsburgh, as a result of the epidemic of typhold fever among the men employed in the construction of Kamp Kill Kare on Nacquette Lake early in the summer of 1916. Mr. Garvan now resides in Washington, having recently been appointed Allen Property Custodian.

The men became ill while engaged in reconstruction of the old Timothy L. Woodruff camp at Arietta, Hamilton county, between April 1, 1916, and July 5 of the same year. There were 129 men employed on the Job when the typhold epidemic started, and a number them died, including Joseph Demars of Saranac Lake.

HELD IN BISBEE DEPORTATION. Forty-nine Defendants Insist Having Jury Trials.

UGLAS, Ariz. Aug. 15.—Forty-nine Goods, luggage. defendants in the Bisbee deportation cases were bound over to-day to the Superior Court for trial on charges of kidnapping, upon their own request. No objections were offered by the State.

In a statement the defendants declared they felt that if one was guilty. clared they felt that if one was guilty at 13th St. of any crime all were equally guilty.

Although they insisted that many of the Broadway cases should have been dismissed for lack of evidence, said the statement, the defendants felt that they had all done what they thought was right, and wanted a jury to decide the guilt or innocence of each man.
